

Safely does it!

If you run your own business, or think your workplace needs help, there is a new venture in Highworth for you called Conform Safety.

Mandy Bond, known by many in her previous role as a part time librarian at Highworth library, has decided to develop her own business further, continuing in the field of Health and Safety.

With over ten years experience, qualifications, and membership of the Institution of Occupational Safety and Health, Mandy already has a number of retained clients. She has based Conform Safety on the idea that, many smaller businesses want to have good Health and Safety, but often don't have the resources or time to achieve it themselves.

Mandy is able to offer a complete package, tailored to suit individual business needs to achieve compliance, starting with a simple audit to look at measures already in place and offering outline guidance. This can be followed with a full assessment package, recommendations, a simple management system and that all important Safety Statement, written in a clear, user friendly style.

Why not look on line at www.conform-safety.co.uk for more details about the audit special offer, or e-mail: enquiries@conform-safety.co.uk or call on (01793) 861368.

Valerie Hillier of Newburgh Place has a bone to pick with road workers. She told Highworth Link: "I am 69 years old and have been married to Derrick for 51 years, last year being our 'Golden Wedding' year. We have four children, ten grandchildren and six great grandchildren, we are a large and happy family. I worked as an auxiliary nurse for 21 years and then was a carer to my parents for ten years. Now retired, I enjoy writing poetry, reading, fishing and singing with the 'Highworth Songsters'. We moved to Highworth nine years ago and have never regretted it; we love being here. It is a lovely community."

Chaos

*Have you recently been to town in your car?
Did you manage to get there with ease?
Or like me did you find everywhere
Is closed or dug up and awaiting repair?*

*Wherever you turn be it north, east, west or south
There's new traffic lights, ramps and striped cones.
You set out to take a route you've always gone
Now the road's closed and it takes twice as long.*

"I want a traditional church wedding but Sam prefers something trendy. Can we compromise and do it bunji-jumping from the steeple?"
